

Creative Fabrica EULA [posted December 2016]

For most current offerings and to assure antequated information, visit their website.

Creative Fabrica has been authorized to rent SWMCA fonts and the following EULA has been approved by this company.

License

All fonts you download as part of any subscription are covered under this license. No exceptions. This way you always know what you get, easy as that.

The Crafts subscription has a different license which can be found here.

If you purchase a font outside a subscription (a "single sale"), your purchase will automatically fall under the commercial license and is valid for life.

Version

You are reading version 1.0 of the license, created on 07-June-2016.
Once a license is updated a new version will be posted here.

Personal License

The personal license is meant for hobbyists, students, home-crafters and anybody else that wants to use fonts but not make money of their work.

When you have an active subscription with the personal license, you are allowed to:

Download and install each and every font from Creative Fabrica on your personal computer.

Create unlimited digital or physical creations using these fonts.

Use these creations in any way that does not generate revenue, for example:

Self use: decorate your home, personal website, study, etc

Presents: Create presents that you give away to friends, families, colleagues

Create new designs while you have an active subscription.

You are not allowed to:

Use the creations for commercial use, for example:

Decorate a shop.

Sell your designs on digital marketplaces (Creative Market, Etsy, etc).

Sell your designs on physical markets/fairs/marketplaces.

In any way exchange your creations for money, services or goods.

Distribute or sell the fonts.

Create new designs using the fonts when you stop your subscription.

In case you want to start selling designs you created, you can always upgrade to a commercial license. Automatically, all previous creations are covered under the new commercial license.

Commercial License

The Commercial License is meant for anybody who is looking to use the fonts for commercial work, such as (freelance) graphic designers, Etsy sellers, professional crafters, etc.

When you have an active subscription with the commercial license, you are allowed to:

Download and install each and every font from Creative Fabrica on your personal/work computers.

Create unlimited digital or physical creations using these fonts.

Sell these designs in exchange for money, services or other goods, think:

You are allowed to create items that you sell on digital marketplaces (Etsy, Creative Market, Your own site, etc) – There are no limitations on the amount of items you can sell.

You are allowed to sell your items on physical markets/fairs/etc.

You are allowed to exchange the designs for services or other goods.

Create new designs to sell while you have an active subscription.

You are not allowed to:

Resell or distribute the fonts:

You cannot include the font in a design you created for a customer – a separate license can be obtained for this (example: when you use a font to create a logo, you can send the logo and all the source files to your customer, you are not allowed to include the actual font file though)

Create new designs using the fonts when you stop your subscription, example:

Once you cancel your subscription you are not allowed to create new “Quotes / Banners / Shirts”

Once you cancel your subscription you are allowed to sell existing “Quotes / Banners / Shirts / etc” that you created in the past while you had an active subscription.

Agency License

The Agency License covers everything from the commercial license and allows up to 5 seats! Great for creative teams!

The Agency License offers a huge discount for these creative teams and extra commercial seats will be available for $9 / month each.
